Stephanie with Alpenglow was wonderful to work with. She communicated with us extremely well from start to finish. This was greatly appreciated especially during the COVID pandemic which created some logistical issues and constant changes. Thanks to Stephanie's meticulous orchestration before and on our wedding day, everything went as planned and could not have turned out better.

We highly recommend Stephanie and Alpenglow to anyone planning their wedding.

I cannot imagine putting our wedding weekend together without having Stephanie by my side as our wedding planner and her team to coordinate. Our wedding was not an easy one, and yet, despite all that complexity, I never had to lift a finger on my wedding day. Jeremy and I were able to relax with our friends and family and truly soak in the day. I cannot stress to future brides how incredibly organized, prepared, and fun Stephanie and her team are. Even changing our reception venue and completely shifting our wedding logistics 90 days out. Stephanie never skipped a beat. She continuously pivoted with us, and helped ensure no detail was forgotten. No idea was too ridiculous, and she was on-board with finding a way to pull-off everything we threw her way.

Additionally, Stephanie also runs an event rental company, so is a one-stop shop for your décor and furniture, and is both supportive of building our your vision as well as full of ideas to make it even more special. If you haven't at least had a conversation with her

- you definitely should.
